Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Investing in small and medium sized companies involves greater risk than investing in more established companies, including business risk, significant stock price fluctuations and illiquidity. Because the value of an investment in the Fund will fluctuate, there is the risk that an investor will lose money. An investment will decline in value if the value of the Fund's investments decreases. The Fund may invest in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods.
